DR. ZWEMER SOUNDS KEYNOTE FOR YEAR

OPENING EXERCISES WITNESSED BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Freshman Class Breaks All Records.

Wednesday morning, September 21, witnessed the opening exercises beginning Hope's fifty-seventh year. Both the Chapel proper and the Y. M. C. A. room were filled to overflowing. It was a very happy gathering of old and new students, and was a most inspiring sight especially to Hope's alumnae who always watch with much interest and concern the opening of each school year.

The program for the morning began as usual with the singing of "Come, Thou Almighty King." This is an old custom at Hope, and one which has endeared itself to all the students. Dr. J. E. Kuigenga pronounced the invocation. Then Dr. E. D. Dimment welcomed back the old students, and also wished all the newcomers a most hearty welcome. He introduced as the speaker of the morning our own Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer, who, with his accustomed readiness and grace delivered an address on "Corner-stones and Trees as Symbols of Co-Education." He said, in part, the following:—

"There is no religion that believes in co-education except Christianity. Only Christian literature has the expression of the text, 'When our sons shall be as plants grown up in their youth, and our daughters as corner-stones hewn after the fashion of the palace.' In these symbols we have all the elements of true manhood and womanhood. There is stability and growth; harness and strength; character and culture; strength and beauty. These combinations are inevitable. For, character without culture has no winsomeness, and culture without character has no permanence.

"The qualities of the marble, or the stones, are hardness, polish, and utility. In terms of manhood and womanhood it would be character, culture and service. Hardness is a quality of character.

"Thou, therefore, endure hardship as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

Then welcome each rebuff

That turns earth's smoothness rough,

Each thing that bids nor sit nor stand but go.

Not the least of the cornerstone's qualities is its smoothness. The culture of a man or a woman is not the least of his or her make-up. To be able to say and do the right thing at the right time is the essence of culture, and must be gained at college if the college training is to be at all complete. And then, there is the utility. Service is more than a meaningless word. It stands for the expression of the impressions received while at school. That is the unique feature of Hope College. Hope's graduates go out to SERVE.

The address was very pleasingly delivered. The seriousness of it all was shot through with some very fine humor which the audience enjoyed.

A very welcome feature of the program was a solo sung by Teunis Prins of the class of '20, accompanied at the piano by Harold Veldman of the Class of '21.

After a closing hymn Dr. Kuigenga pronounced the benediction.

LECTURE COURSE BIGGER THAN THE ANCHOR EDITOR TOURS PROF. MEINECKE RETURNS TO EUROPE

Management Secures Famous Artist and Lecturer to Entertain Students. Prof. Ott to Give Popular Lecture

The Hope College Lecture Course this year will surpass the courses offered the past few years. During the war the entire system of our College Lecture Course was broken down. The past few years Prof. Nykerk has worked hard to build up the former organization, and expects that with the proper support from the students, this year will find it where it ought to be. Consequently he has booked for this year some of the best artists obtainable. Those scheduled to appear this season are as follows:

On Thursday, October 20, The Baker Company will give a concert in Carnegie Gymnasium. She has been secured by the Redpath Bureau for a transcontinental tour, and we deem ourselves very fortunate to have her stop at Hope College to entertain us for an evening. Miss Elsie Baker has made several Victrola records, and is recognized as one of the foremost singers in the country. With her comes William Durieux, a cellist. Mr. Durieux is of Holland descent, and has an international reputation as a cellist soloist. He has appeared with the largest orchestra in Paris, and is very efficient as an ensemble player.

Henry Lawrence Southwick, President of the Emerson College of Oratory, will appear here on January 19, giving a lecture, and also reading some Shakespearean plays. He has toured the colleges and Universities of forty states, and comes highly recommended as a lecturer to students. At present he is one of the most noted interpreters of Shakespeare in America.

Prof. John Amherst Ott is not a new figure on our platform. He appeared here some ten or fifteen years ago, and spoke before very large audiences. The management has secured him to deliver his lecture on "Sour Grapes". This is a popular lecture on heredity, has been delivered over 4,000 times, and has been heard by over a million people. Mr. Ott was a pioneer in popularizing biological ethics, and has a wealth of information which no student can afford to miss.

The last number on the course is The Fine Arts Quartet, rendering light opera in costume. The favorable comments made upon the Montague Singers last year, has caused the management to secure a similar company. All members of this company have done much concert work, and are well known, especially to the music lovers in Chicago where they have worked for some time. They will specialize in the rendition of Irish and Spanish music.

This short rehearsal of the different numbers on the Lecture Course is sufficient to enable each and every student to assure himself of the invaluable profit to be gained by attending these concerts and lectures. The cultural training of a college man or woman is by no means the least. The Lecture Course offers an opportunity for the broadening of vision, and the deepening of sympathies, and is not merely amusement offered to while away a few hours. Further announcements will be given in later issues of The Anchor.

The Anchor makes its initial appearance this year without the guiding hand of its Editor-in-Chief. Peter De Vries has not yet returned to school from Paris unknown. The first few weeks of vacation Pete made a trip to Mexico, and later on went to Europe. Dr. Nykerk received a card from him, written in London, and stating that he expects to be back in Holland about the 10th day of this month. The Anchor will be published as usual, the Editor-in-Chief taking up his work as soon as he returns.

Y. M. C. A. RECEPTION A BIG SUCCESS

OVER TWO HUNDRED MEN WERE PRESENT

Y. M. Begins the Year Right.

The hand of Christian fellowship was extended to the new men of Hope at the annual Y. M. C. A. reception last Tuesday evening. As man met man with a warm handclasp each felt the deep and potent meaning of Christian comradeship.

After a short prayer and song service the president, Winfield Burggraaf, gave an inspiring talk in which he struck the keynote for the year when he said, "Be loyal till death." Loyalty to God, to our fellowmen, and to ourselves should be the aim of every Hope man. It must be the loyalty that comes out of victory, for only the man who lives a victorious thought life, and a victorious moral life can be truly loyal. As we cry out with Paul, "Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?" the answer comes clear and strong, "Thanks be to God who has given us the victory." If we will but trust in God this coming year we can live an absolutely victorious life.

Two of our most active members were taken away from us last year and Prof. Hinkamp made a special appeal for workers to take their places. Fellows, it is up to each one of us to do what we can while God gives us the opportunity.

The last half of the evening was spent in the enjoyment of a splendid program. Gerrit De Weerd favored the group with two violin selections which were heartily appreciated. The Hope quartet sang a few times and Morris Stegerda gave a reading. "Tut" and "Arab" furnished some of their usual entertainment. Finally came pie, a la-mode, and then having been benefited physically, mentally, and morally the men went home feeling that they had spent a very profitable and happy evening.

The Seniors spent last Friday evening in a cottage at Waukazoo. The committee chose the darkest spot in the woods, where not even a nightingale was seen or heard. And eats—our girls and Tony Engelsman surely did prepare a fine spread. There was a little concern about the coffee, but it did come. The members of the class were at home half an hour too early. We trust that Mrs. Durfee will remember this, and credit us with it.

With the return of school comes the happy anticipation of meeting all the old faces once more, not only those of the students but those of the faculty as well. Those of you who were at Hope a year ago remember the disappointment that spread over the campus when we learned that Professor Bruno Meinecke was to leave us, and then again the joy when we learned that he was to leave us for only the period of one year.

By special invitation of the University of Michigan, Professor Meinecke was offered an Assistant Professorship at the University in the Department of Latin together with the opportunity for completing his work for a Doctor's degree. Considering the fact that a Doctor's Degree is required of all members of the University's faculty, we deem it a very high honor that our own professor should be given this invitation. And now after a year's absence he is with us once more, ready to take up his duties of another year. We are also glad that we will be able to enjoy his keen fellowship, his sympathetic efforts his interest in our welfare. With all sincerity we hope and trust that Old Hope may feel his influence in the years to come, that the new student's will find him to be a coveted friend.

PREP. STUDENT DROWNED DURING SUMMER.

The last Anchor last year contained the news of the death of Charles Loomans. The first Anchor this year must mention the death of John P. Lauwe. Jack, as we knew him, was drowned while bathing in a river in New Jersey. He was a fine chap, quiet, unassuming, with a golden character. The Anchor does not have the particulars of the drowning incident. It was a very sad and tragic death, following so soon after the incident which put a deep hush over our Commencement last spring. We shall miss him this year, and The Anchor regrets his loss.

SOPHOMORES ARE VICTORS IN ANNUAL TUG OF WAR

THEY PULL FRESHMEN THRU BLACK RIVER AFTER HARD CONTEST

Rope Breaks During Pull; Contest Was One of the Best in Years

Hope's class of 1925 Friday gave the Sophomores one of the most stubborn and heroic fights that was ever seen waged in a tug of war across Black river here. The Frosh were stationed on the south bank and the Sophomores on the north, with Riemersma and Prins as anchor men. Each team was composed of 25 men. At 4:21 Coach Schouten gave the first signal for the big pull. The heavy rope started to sway back and forth and after three minutes of strenuous pulling from both ends, had stretched to its limit and broke almost over the river's center. At least both sides were much in earnest and before resuming the pull Coach Schouten took three men from each side to make allowance for the knot. The Freshies showed themselves to be real sports when they also dipped their end of the rope into the river, after the one end had been taken thru the river for mending. With a wet rope and three men less to each

HOPE'S FOOTBALL SEASON BEGINS

JACK HAS SIX LETTER MEN AS NUCLEUS FOR NEW TEAM

Freshmen Class Furnish Some Good Material

Although not strong in foot ball in recent years, Hope will make a very strong effort to make a good record this year. In order to make foot ball a success the support of every student is needed. There should be at least twenty more candidates for positions on the team. Other schools the size of Hope have a list of from forty to sixty candidates, while Coach Schouten is struggling along with about twenty-five. If you don't play foot ball, at least you can support it. Manager Kingma has arranged a schedule with two home games and has one open date which will be filled with another home game if it is possible. Originally Hillsdale was scheduled to play in Holland but owing to the fact that the High school plays Grand Rapids Central, the management thought it best to transfer this game to Hillsdale. Every student should at least show the team they are back of them when they open their schedule at Hillsdale next Saturday.

It is not as yet known what lineup will face Hillsdale in the opening game. Jack's biggest problem will be at fullback, center and the ends. Garey, who played fullback last season will no doubt be found at one of the tackles to bolster up the line. Hidding, last year's center, is ineligible this year. Kingma, a letter man of last year will probably hold down one end, while Doekson, who earned his letter last year, will probably be found at the other end. Both of these men are light and may be displaced by some heavier candidate, as both Boonstra and Van Eenaam of last year's squad are showing promise in the early workouts. Riemersma is also showing some good form, and although he has never played the game before, his weight may land a job for him on one of the wings. If Jack can develop a good fullback, the backfield will be one of the best seen here in recent years. Capt. Van Putten may be shifted from half to full and one of the newer men will then hold down one of the halfback jobs. Japinga will no doubt hold down the other half. He is one of the best backfield men who ever donned a Hope suit, and though he has been absent from the game for a season great things are expected from Dickie this year.

The other half back will be picked from either Chuck Van Zanten, Shaw or Vander Heere. Although none of these men have had much experience they are showing up well in practice. Ottobob, who played last year with Central College, seems to have the call for quarter back. Other good prospects for backfield material are Louwsma, Keizer, Eggink and Oosting. Although all are green, they may break into a regular birth before the end of the season.

The line will be heavy and with two letter men holding jobs it ought to show up well against the other colleges. Hamburg, a guard of last year will no doubt hold his job and if Garey doesn't play fullback he will

HOW-DO-YOU-DO?

Two weeks have passed since the opening of school, and The Anchor would be sadly out of place were it to come now with a message of WELCOME. The happy faces, so expressive of inward joy and contentment, speak loudly enough that both old and new students already feel at home, and are already enjoying one another's friendship. And so The Anchor comes with the greeting How-Do-You-Do? After two weeks of getting acquainted, how are you doing? Are you in line, and in step with the onward march of the year. The most worthless student on the campus is he who waits until half of the first semester is over before he really gets into the swing of the year's work. Two weeks means twelve working days; two hundred and eighty-eight hours, or seventeen thousand, two hundred and eighty minutes. That's a long time. In view of this time, HOW DO YOU DO?

PLAY FAIR

In suggesting a key-note for all campus activities as well as for the individual, we would borrow a phrase from the athletic field. PLAY FAIR. The cause for every conflict in this world lies in that rottenness within us which makes us indulge in foul play. That self-assertion which we covet as a blessing for the peoples of the world, suggest a corresponding curse when that self-assertion crushes the rights of others. It is this super-self-assertion, if we may use that term against which we must guard.

Student opinion should be so firmly set on fair play, that any foul play which may be attempted, will immediately be wiped out.

We ought to demand fair play from our athletes. The coach's orders in athletics are final. Any man who knowingly violates instructions is indulging in a self-assertion which bespeaks a determined desire to play foul instead of fair. We would far rather lose every game of the year, knowing that our men played fair with their coach and the other students, than win them all and feel that they had not been true.

We ought to demand fair play from each other in the class-room. The Honor-Code is nothing more than a scrap of paper. If you think hard for five minutes you can find enough technical deficiencies to insure against being accused of violating them. The students who voted for this honor system did so because they wanted fair play. The students of this year, wanting that same fair play, ought to enforce the rules.

We ought to play fair with our friendships. Especially during these first days of school there is a tendency to play foul. In our pseudo-loyalty to our Society we become very intimate (?) friends with the new students. Then, if they refuse the invitation from our society, somehow, we don't know them anymore. There is nothing dirtier than that. Happily it is not always the case. Play fair with your friendships.

We ought to play fair with the folks at home. They have made some sacrifice. This sacrifice is not always pecuniary. That is the least they can do. But a mother has given her girl, and a father has given his boy. They would far rather have kept them home. The greatest tragedy of college life is that because of it some people are wholly estranged from their home folks. At home only three months of the year, is out of proportion. Play fair with them. Give them a proper share in your day's work,—a thought, a letter, a prayer.

To be sure, assert yourself. If you believe that you are right, stand up, even if you are the only one that is standing. That is fair play. But to assert yourself at the expense of right and truth, all the while kicking some one else lower down, that cannot be classed other than foul play. That spirit we cannot have, and still be true to the traditions of the school. We want FAIR PLAY or NOTHING.

Miss Roslyn Chen is the first Chinese girl to attend Hope. She enters as a Freshman.

THE ANCHOR

With this first issue of the year, a few remarks concerning "The Anchor" itself seem fitting and desirable.

The great and important fact is—The Anchor is the students' publication—by the students and for the students. It is the medium of expression for the college. In its columns are faithfully recorded

"All common things, each day's events,
 That with each hour begin and end;

Our pleasure and our discontents
 And how our daily time is spent."

But like athletics, social life and every other institution in the college, it fails in its purpose without the support of the student body. The staff invites contributions. Near the bulletin board in Van Raalte Hall is a box labelled "The Anchor," and any contribution in the way of literary work, communications, expressions of opinion, etc.,—if placed here will be taken care of. When requests are made for special "write-ups" and information, the staff expects willing co-operation on the part of the students.

The policy of the paper is progressive but conservative as opposed to radicalism. Only constructive criticisms and such things as are for the glory and honor of the school will be printed, for by its very name The Anchor carries out the beautiful symbolism of Hope.

The outlook is very optimistic, all conditions pointing to an energetic and successful year.

And so, in the spirit of welcome The Anchor greets you, Readers, new and old.

side, the pistol shot started the men at 4:57 with dogged determination for another twenty minutes of hard work. Both teams were well matched in weight, and with the second pistol shot, neither class had gained any perceptible advantage over the other. Directly at the minute every man arose from the trenches in perfect line, and pulled for three and one-half minutes before the Sophomore Class finally gained the upper hand in the fray. The Frosh worked together in perfect harmony and gained from 10 to 12 feet of rope in the first minute's work and apparently seemed to have the benefit of the doubt, when stubborn resistance on the part of the Sophs caused the Freshies' line formation to collapse before they had time to recover their foothold. After desperate efforts, they failed to regain their old positions again, the Freshmen with their coaches took to the cold waters of Black river, to greet their opponents. The Sophomores have initiated the class of 1925 into the institution with a very friendly spirit, and feel that both have had a hard time doing it.

After each year's pull all the classes have their first class party. This year the classes have found themselves particularly well separated by rivers, channels, etc., to cause no disturbance in the festivities. The Seniors held their party in DeBoer's cottage, at Waukazoo Inn, via boat from the Graham & Morton dock. The Juniors all piled into a bus and cut cross-lots to Alpena Beach for their good time, while the Sophs stayed in Holland and the Freshmen resorted to Macatawa Park.

Mass Meeting

The first mass meeting of the year opened with a boom Wednesday night. Hair-raising yells and the roar of the crowd show promise of an exciting year. With Dick Blocker holding down the platform, some athletic business was transacted first. Adrian Daane was elected Prep. representative on the athletic board and Wells Thoms was made yell leader with Peeps Whelan as his assistant. Frances Mills, Dyke and Schipper gave some peppy athletic talks.

Then the fun began. Mr. Burggraaf, president of Student Council, as master of ceremonies, ably assisted by Mr. DeVries, presented the new Freshman rules. Tho the green caps proved to be a bone of contention, and there was much free-for-all discussion, the rules were finally passed intact, and no casualties have been reported.

Freshman Regulations

Rule I—A—The members of the Freshman class shall grant precedence to all upper class-men, the girls to the girls and the boys to the boys, in all public gatherings.

B—No Freshman boy shall take out or have dates with upper-class girls.

C—No Freshman shall be on the streets of Holland, Michigan, after eleven (11) o'clock P. M.

D—1—No Freshman shall wear any cap other than the cap prescribed by the Student Council, and approved by the Student Body.

2—No Freshman girl shall appear in public without a green ribbon about her forehead.

E—Every Freshman shall tip his hat to all upper-classmen.

Rule II—The enforcement of, and penalties for violation of, the various section of Rule I shall be provided for by members of the Sophomore class, under direction of a committee from the Senior Class.

Rule III—The following reservations shall be taken as modifications or interpretations of Rules I and II:

(a) No rules shall be in effect except during the period beginning at 12:01 A. M. on the second Friday following the opening of school, and terminating at 11:59 P. M. on the day before Thanksgiving.

(b) Upper-classmen shall be interpreted as meaning Juniors and Seniors.

(c) 1.—No Freshman rule shall be in effect on Sundays. 2. Section C, Rule I, shall not be in effect on Society night, or on any evening when college social functions extend beyond the prescribed hour.

D 1—Section A, Rule I, shall not apply to members of the Freshman Class holding reserved seats for which extra admission fees have been paid. 2. Section A, Rule I, shall not apply in morning chapel exercises.

E 1.—Any penalties prescribed under Rule II shall be in keeping with a due regard for the personal safety of the violators. 2. Sophomores shall recognize all circumstantial exigencies which may entitle a violator to freedom from punishment.

F—Neither of the two lower classes shall take any action which may tend toward interclass trouble.

JUNIORS HAVE PARTY.

"Hang trouble, care killed a cat." Such was the motto of the Juniors at their "After the Pull" party Friday night. The Palace at Tennessee Beach extended its welcome, after transportation a-la Auto bus. The cheery hearth-fire was indicative of the spirit prevailing. Famished appetites were appeased with bacon and eggs just out of the spider. Indeed, the unique transportation, situation and occupation (?) made for a good time altogether satisfactory. May we extend our thanks to Lake Michigan for her gracious reception—her roar and white-caps blended harmonies of sixty merry hearts.

HOPE COLLEGE HONOR CODE.

Article I—Scope—The Honor System shall embrace all term-end examinations, mid-term examinations, and such written quizzes as shall be announced to the students not less than 48 hours in advance.

Article II—Conditions under which examinations shall be given:—

Section 1—Where possible, the students shall occupy alternate seats during the examination or quiz. If this is impossible, then two or more sets of questions shall be prepared and distributed so that any two persons sitting next to each other shall have different questions.

Section 2—No papers, text books, or lecture notes shall be taken to any examination or to such quizzes as shall come under the Honor System.

Article III—(Pledge)—The pledge which shall appear on all examinations and quizzes shall be uniform, and shall be as follows: "I Pledge My Honor That I Have Neither Given Nor Received Aid in this Examination."

Article IV—Violations—Violations of the Honor System shall consist:

1. In any attempt to receive assistance from any person, book, paper or other source during an examination or written quiz.

2. In any attempt to give assistance to any person taking an examination, whether the person giving the assistance shall be taking the examination or not.

3. In any attempt to obtain, previous to any examination, copies of the examination questions or any illegal knowledge of those questions.

Article V—Penalties—

Section I—(First Offense)—Any person convicted for the first time of violating the Honor Pledge as described in Article IV shall be given a grade of "F" (failure) for that course, and shall be suspended immediately upon conviction for the remainder of the term in which the conviction occurred, and for the term following.

In case a person so suspended has completed any course with the exception of the examination, he shall be permitted to take such examination upon his return to college without examination fee, and shall receive regular credits for such course if he pass the examination, but he shall receive no credit unless the examination be taken. In no other case shall he receive credit for any incompleting course taken in the term in which conviction occurred.

Section 2—(Second Offense)—Any person who shall be convicted a second time for a violation of the Honor Pledge shall be immediately expelled from the college.

Article VI—(Procedure)—Section 1—Any one believing that a breach of the Honor System has been committed shall, with the assistance of such fellow students as he may desire to call upon, investigate the matter as secretly and speedily as possible. After a thorough investigation, they shall demand of the accused an explanation of his conduct. If after hearing his explanation, they are convinced of his guilt, they shall demand that he submit at once to the penalty as described in Article V.

Section 2—The accused must then either submit to the penalty, or demand that the Honor Committee be convened and his case tried.

Section 3—The trial before the Honor Committee may be either secret or public as the accused may desire. In any case, only the student body will be admitted.

Section 4—In the trial before the Honor Committee both sides may be represented by counsel from the student body, and such counsel shall be limited to one individual for each side.

Section 5—Counsel shall have the privilege of asking the witnesses questions, but only such questions as shall tend to bring out the facts of the case. Counsel shall not be allowed to make an argument, but the accused may say what he chooses in his own defense.

Section 6—If after thorough trial four of the five who compose the Honor Committee are convinced of the guilt of the accused and shall so cast their votes in a secret ballot, the accused must submit to the penalty as described in Article V.

Section 7—From the decision of the Honor Committee there shall be no appeal.

Article—VII—(Honor Committee)

Section 1—The Honor Committee shall consist of the Presidents of the four college classes and the presidents of the "A" class (representing the Preparatory School.) In case of the absence of any member of this committee, the next highest officer in the class shall act in his place.

Section 2—The president of the Senior class shall preside at all the trials before the Honor Committee, and shall in all cases have a vote.

Article VIII—Section 1—A mass meeting called by the President of the Student Council at the beginning of each school year shall be devoted to explaining the rules and system, and the President of the College shall be asked to address all new students of both the College and preparatory School on the subject of the Honor System at some time within four weeks of the beginning of each school year.

Section 2—The first issue of the Anchor each year shall print a copy of these rules, and the college handbook shall also contain a copy.

JACK NEEDS MORE MEN FOR THE TRACK TEAM

Graduation lost for Coach Schouten some of his best track men. This means that these places must be filled in by Freshmen and "subs" of last year's team. Here are but three letter men, Capt. Schipper, Meengs, and Brower. Some of last year's men who look good are Thoms, Achterhof, and Kempers. The Freshmen are not responding to the call as they should. There are several places open on the team, so, if you have ever run or think you can run, report to Jack at once. The M. A. C. Cross Country Run is but a few weeks ago.

be found at one of the tackles. Fat Wersing's 220 pounds is making a strong bid for the other guard position. He has had some high school experience which is strongly in his favor. Heemstra and A. Doekson are giving him a good race and one of these men may be found at the guard position next Saturday. Hiding's shoes at center will be the hardest to fill. The big boy made a name for himself last year at the pivot position. Jack is working De Pree, Van Lente, and Joldersma at this job and unless some one else turns up one of these men will probably start against Hillsdale Saturday. Fell looks good for the other tackle. He has had some experience in High school and was a sub last year. Besides these men Huffs, Heemstra and Zoerner are fighting for places on the line and may succeed in displacing some of the more experienced men before the season is completed.

All in all prospects are very good and with the proper support from the student body the team should make a good record this year.

Manager Kingma has arranged the following schedule:

Oct. 8—Hillsdale, abroad.
Oct. 15—Alma, abroad.
Oct. 22—G. R. Junior, Home.
Oct. 29—Ferris, Home.
Nov. 4—Kazoo Normals, abroad.
Nov. 12—Mt. Pleasant, abroad.
Nov. 19—Open.

Matt's Musings

Dear Pop:—

You remember that I wrote you a letter last year when I started Hope College, but I guess I put it in the fire-box instead of the mail-box. That doggone Tut Baker got hold of it and had it put in the Anchor. That made me sore, because he had it printed just to show every one what a green freshman I was. If he finds this and has it printed, I won't give a rip because I'm a Sophomore now and don't have to worry about what any one thinks of me. Since I took that English Course with Miss Gibson last year I don't have to stand back for anybody when it comes to writing letters.

With tipping the conductor and sleeping in a top berth, I managed to get here in tip top condition. The first place I hit was the old Boston Restaurant. Say, Pop, you know this place used to be noted for its wooden shoes; now it's noted for its tough steaks. I ordered one of them. When the waiter brot it out it was so slim I thot it was one of those pig tails that Garry De Jong brot over from Pete Mouw's farm last summer. I said:

"Waiter what else have you got?" He brot me out two codfish and one—smelt.

I asked him how the pumpkin pie was. He said, "It's all squash."

The best I could get was a soup sandwich.

I went to the barber shop for a shave but every barber in the place was shaving mugs so I went up to my rooming place and shaved myself. Speaking of my room, Pop, I am rooming in Van Vleck this year. You remember that's the place you read about in "Pilgrim's Progress." I've got a beautiful little room on the third floor up. The fellow that used to have my room graduated and is across the road now at the factory where they make dominoes. Old lady Van Vleck is a fine landlady. She makes coffee for us every night between 12 P. M. and midnight. She has the room's nicely furnished too. Every room has a floor, a ceiling, and four walls in some spots.

I'm eating in the dorm this year. Pop, I didn't like to go there at first because there's so few fellows but all the girls coaxed me to come so I went. I can't brag about the meals very much. They must think I'm quite a wind bag; they fill me up with air three times a day. Maybe I can get used to living on air and girls' chatter after I've been there awhile. One thing I like about this place is the social hour. It gives me a chance to make a date and kid the women along. Say, you ought to see them fall for my line. I guess they know what a hit I made with the belles of Podunk last summer. We've got two bob-haired girls in the dorm this year, Mildred Temple and Ike Sherpenisse.

It's generally easy for me to write home, Pop, because I always have to write for money. My money has not given out yet and I can't think of anything else to write. I'll be out of coin soon so it'll be easier to write next time. So long,

Your loving,

Son.

P. S.—Please send out my pink tie to match my green shirt. From the way the Profs. rave about green shirts and pink ties in chapel I guess they must be all the rane out here.

It's a nice thing we found that letter. It helped an awful lot to fill up the column. Now for a few musings with the aid of our ready-made joke books and we'll have this job finished for the first week.

Do not think, Freshies, that J. B. Vander Ploeg is a Freshman just because he looks like one. He looked just as foolish five years ago when he entered the Freshman class.

Prof. Winter told his class last week that he once saw a teacher chase a pupil and catch him by the outside door. Now Casey, our intelligent room-mate from the east, desires to know where a boy's outside door it.

We've seen a number of green Freshmen in our day but the one we saw from Orange City last week has them all beat. He was reading the birth list in his home papers to see if there was any one born that he knew.
